

Introduction

Prologue

Great is the ‘confusion’ surrounding biblical Law. Even before denominations arose, there had been divisions based on the correct interpretation of Law, be it due to personal preferences based on a greater willingness for obedience, or the striving for more liberty. Many scholars have done well in reflecting on the Law, but are often constraint by denominational limitations, where there is usually consensus regarding the Old Covenant Law, but vast differences if to actually follow the Moral Law at all, in 6 commands (Roman Catholicism), in 9 commands (Protestantism), or with a greater willingness in actually 10 commands.

Learn now more about the differentiation of Laws in the Bible – the Laws that are valid for every Christian today (10 Moral Laws & 85+ Laws of CHRISTOS and the Apostles) and those Laws that once had been given to the nation of Israel (600+ Old Covenant / Ceremonial Laws) or had been added by some overzealous teachers (1500+ Oral / Fence / Pharisee Laws).

But be aware that there is no such thing as a perfect study on biblical Law. There are many nuances which will only become clearer to the student of the Bible by constantly reading the Word and by comparing someone's understanding to the respective verses, while ideally leaving any denominational and educational bias at the door.

THEOS doesn't reveal how He communicated the eternal principles of His Law to humanity before Mount Sinai, but we can conclude that the unwritten Law, which was the same in substance and authority as the written Moral Law, was written on the conscience (hearts) of humanity (see e.g. Rom 2:14-16). The evidence is clear and substantial that the giving of the law on Sinai was not the world's initial exposure to its precepts. Adam and Eve coveted (Cm. #10) and stole (#8); Cain killed (#6) and lied (#9); the men of Sodom were wicked and sinful; Pharaoh blasphemed THEOS (#1, 2, 3); the book of Genesis already described adultery (#7; Gen 12:17, Gen 20:9-18, Gen 26:10) and murder (#6) as a sin; the Sabbath is "to remember" (#4); Abraham, Jacob and Joseph already obeyed Commandments, Statutes and Laws (Gen 26:5); and the Israelites failed the Sabbath test (#4) already before the Law of THEOS was codified and specified at Mt. Sinai. Another clear example is Moses, who judged before Sinai 'the ordinances of THEOS and His law' and his father-in-law encouraged him to delegate this task (see Exo 18:15-16 below).                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                     |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                       | The Law of Moses originated with the Nation of Israel and was rather not written on the hearts of man, but had to be taught and copied by teachers, handed down from generation to generation. The Law of Moses is commonly organized into Ceremonial / Civil Laws, sometimes with the additional category of Sacrificial Laws. Those terms are man-made for easier comprehensibility – faithfully based on the biblical descriptions and grouped according to their area of application. | Blow the horn during the new moon, a trumpet in the well-marked day of your holiday! For it is an order for Israel, and a judgment by the THEOS of Jacob. He made it to be a testimony among Joseph during his coming forth from out of the land of Egypt. He declares His word to Jacob, His ordinances and His judgments to Israel. He has not done so for any nation, and His judgments He manifested not to them. | And when Moses finished writing all the words of this law in a book , even to the end, then he charged the Levites who bear the ark of the covenant of KYRIOS, saying, Take the book of this law , and you shall put it in the side of the ark of the covenant of KYRIOS your THEOS; and it shall be there among you for a testimony . For I know your provocation, and your stiff neck; for yet during my life with you at this day, you have been provoking in your conduct toward THEOS: how shall you not also be so after my death? related to Israel's Worship, Circumcision, Cleanliness, Clothing and Dietary Restrictions, Extraordinary Sabbaths / Feasts / Festivals, Idolatry, Prayer, Priestly Laws, Prophecy, Ritual Purity (Sacrifices), Tithing, ... The Civil Law applied to daily living. Court and Judicial Procedures, Family, Inheritance, Land Boundaries, Punishment for Crime, ... The Sacrificial Law specified how sin was eliminated through sacrifices, before IESOUS became the very last sacrifice and 'nailed' the Old Covenant Laws to the cross. In addition to those approx. 610 laws [see separate overview], Pharisees added hundreds of religious traditions. | But CHRISTOS has arrived as a high priest of the good things to come. [...] not by the blood of goats and calves, but by His own blood, he entered once for all into the most holy place, obtaining eternal redemption. [...] He is the mediator of a New Covenant, in order that, because a death has taken place for the redemption of transgressions committed during the first covenant, those who are the called may receive the promise of the eternal inheritance. | The Law of KYRIOS is perfect, reviving life [it is for us, not against us].                                                                                   | Psa 19:7  |  | And then when Moses finished writing the words of this law on the scroll until they were completes [...]                                                                                                                                                                 | Deu 31:24-26 |  |
| ... the messenger spoke to him at Mount Sinai. And with our fathers who did receive living oracles to give to us ...                                          | Act 7:38  |  | “Take the scroll [not tablets] of this [Ceremonial] law and put it at the side of the ark of the covenant [...] it will be there as a witness (against you) .                                                                                                     |                     |  |
| Circumcision is nothing and uncircumcision is nothing [= Ceremonial Law = abolished], but the keeping of the commandments of THEOS.                                  | 1Cor 7:19 |  | He forgave us all our trespasses ... canceled the debt ascribed to us in the decrees [ordinances] that stood against us . He took it away, nailing it to the cross!                                                                                               | Col 2:13-15  |  |
| But the one who looks into the perfect law of liberty and continues to do it , not being a forgetful hearer but a doer who acts, this one will be blessed ... | 1Jm 1:25  |  | For if the word spoken through angels [not written by one angel, but spoken through various angels] was binding and every transgression and act of disobedience received a just penalty , how will we escape if we neglect so great a salvation ... | Heb 2:2-4    |  |
| Thus speak and thus act as those who are going to be judged by the law of liberty .                                                                                  | 1Jm 2:12  |  |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                 |                     |  |

| While the eternal Moral Law – being directly from THEOS and not being tied to the Old Covenant ONLY – was not sprinkled, the Scroll with the 600+ Old Covenant Laws had indeed been sprinkled with blood. This is an important and very often over-looked differentiation with vast implications in the light of CHRISTOS' blood having overcome and abolished that which was temporary.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                     |  |  |  |  |                    |
| For when every commandment had been spoken by Moses to all the people according to the law, he took the blood of calves with water and scarlet wool and hyssop and sprinkled both the scroll itself and all the people [no mention of the stone tablets], saying, “This is the blood of the covenant that THEOS has commanded for you.” And likewise he sprinkled both the tabernacle and all the utensils of service with the blood. Indeed, nearly everything is purified with blood according to the law [still no mention of the Moral Law], and apart from the shedding of blood there is no forgiveness. |  |  |  |  | Heb 9:19-22 |

| The term ' Law ' can also refer to parts of the Old Testament (Genesis, Exodus, Leviticus, Numbers and Deuteronomy), but it could eventually mean all the Old Testament books except the Prophets. This is because the term 'Law' is contrasted in the following verses with the term ' Prophets ' (not the office, but referring to all Major and Minor Prophets) and can even include the book of Psalms (see Joh 15:25 below). The term 'Prophets' is further contrasted with ' Apostles ' (Good Message & Acts). |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                           |                                |

Former
Death
Penalty

Let us now look at the sins which had been punished during the Old Covenant era through the death penalty, and specifically if those sins are still biblically considered sins today.

Even though IESOUS CHRISTOS has thankfully abolished the death penalty, this overview is nevertheless important for the following reasons:

It enables us to better appreciate the ultimate sacrifice of IESOUS CHRISTOS and the liberty we have in Him. On the other hand, and looking back at those drastic consequences, we gain a holy fear to live with obedience in this liberty given to us.

2.

It shows us that, even though the 600+ Old Covenant Laws are abolished, many of its principles continue to be very relevant for us, because most of the following sins are either confirmed or implied in the New Covenant. On the other hand we have of course to acknowledge that those sins are the ones with the greater weight, and that they are not representative for the 600+ Old Covenant Laws as a whole, most of which dealt with issues truly not relevant anymore in today's setting with no Temple to begin with. See also the addendum with a complete list of the Old Covenant Law.

It shows us also that sin is not sin, nor is every sin weighted in the same way. To teach otherwise is to directly contradict the Word of THEOS, which shows various examples of differentiation between sins in the New Covenant, the clearest examples being Luk 12:47-48, Joh 19:11, 1Joh 5:16-17 and Heb 9:7. This principle becomes especially clear by the death penalty not being associated with any-, but only to very specific sins. The following sins all formerly deserved the death penalty, and those sins have therefore certainly a greater weight than most other sins.

| Our Application | We, who have the SPIRIT dwelling in us, are free from the dominion and condemnation of the Moral Law, but not from its obligation and the consequences of our sinful acts. We do not obey it anymore as a way to obtain righteousness / justification and salvation, but to become conscious of our sin, to advance our sanctification and to please THEOS. The Moral Law can be described as a mirror, or also as railroad tracks. We are driven by the train symbolizing the Good Message and the HOLY SPIRIT, but sometimes require the Law of THEOS to remain in the track for sanctification. Therefore do not let sin reign in your mortal body [...] but present yourselves to THEOS as those who are alive from the dead [...] you are not under Law [of Sin &amp; Death], but under grace. What then? Shall we sin because we are not under Law but under grace? ... Moses writes about the righteousness that is from the law: “The person who does this will live by it.” But the righteousness from faith speaks like this ... if you ... believe in your heart that THEOS raised Him from the dead, you will be saved. Clearly no one who relies on the Law is justified before THEOS, because “the righteous will live by faith.” [...] CHRIST redeemed us from the curse of the Law by becoming a curse for us because it is written, “Cursed is everyone who hangs on a tree” [...] So the Law was our guardian until CHRIST came that we might be justified by faith. But we know that the [Moral] Law is good, if anyone makes use of it lawfully, knowing this, that the Law is not given for a righteous person but for the lawless and rebellious, for the impious and sinners [...] for murderers, sexually immoral people, homosexuals ... | While both Jews and Gentiles are no longer bound by Ceremonial, Civil and Sacrificial Laws, some of the principles behind those particular laws are timeless and should guide our conduct. And they have been informed about you [Paul] that you are teaching all the Jews who are among the Gentiles the abandonment of Moses, telling them not to circumcise their children or to live according to our customs [= Ceremonial and Civil Laws]. So, my brothers and sisters, you also died to the law [of Sin and Death] through the body of CHRISTOS ... we have been released from the law so that we serve in the new way of the SPIRIT, and not in the old way of the written code. ... THEOS sent His SON, born of a woman, born under the [Old Covenant] law, to redeem those under the law, that we might receive adoption to the partition [...] You wish to be enslaved by them all over again? Do you are observing special days and months and seasons and years [Ceremonial Law]? [...] Tell me, you who want to be under the law, are you not aware of what the law says? ... For He himself is our peace, who made both one and broke down the dividing wall of the partition [...] invalidating the [Jewish] law of commandments in ordinances, in order that He ... might reconcile both in one body to THEOS through the cross, ... |

| Not Under Not Outside But Subject | We are still fully 'subject' to the Law of CHRISTOS, but not 'under' the Law, what means not to be under the weight of the Law, not to be under the condemnation of the Law, not to be cursed by the Law and not to suffer the death penalty for certain transgressions of the Law. We are now with CHRISTOS, who forgives us our sins and condemns us only if genuine repentance for on-going and future sins is absent and/or we fall away from Him. Not under the Old Covenant Law, but ... ... Subject to the Law of CHRISTOS [Paul] To those under the [weight / condemnation / curse / death of the] Law [Jews; Old Covenant believers] I became as under the Law – although I myself am not under the Law – in order that I may gain those under the Law [so that he might gain Jewish believers to CHRISTOS; reason why he had Timothy still circumcised as per exception]. But [only] if you are led by the SPIRIT, you are not under the law. | To those outside the Law [Gentiles; unbelievers] I became as outside the Law – although I am not outside the Law of THEOS, but subject to the Law of CHRISTOS – in order that I may gain those outside the Law. |

| The Law Written On Our Hearts | The New Covenant goes even deeper. In the Old Covenant, people only followed the letter, but were not punished for the spiritual intent of -wanting- to murder or to commit adultery. But in the New Covenant, not only the visible sin is seen by THEOS, but already the spiritual intent (becoming angry or having adulterous lust). In summary, we do not fear direct death anymore, but THEOS now looks deeper into our hearts and IESOUS CHRISTOS will judge us accordingly at the Judgment Seat. ... “and I will make a New Covenant with the house of Israel and with the house of Judah [...] “I will put my Law in their mind, and upon their hearts. I will write it ... For whenever the Gentiles, who do not have the law, do by nature the things of the law, these, although they do not have the law, are a law to themselves, who show the work of the law written on their hearts, their conscience bearing witness and their thoughts one after another accusing or even defending them on the day when THEOS judges the secret things of people, according to my Good Message, through CHRISTOS IESOUS. ... inscribed not with ink but with the SPIRIT of the living THEOS, not on stone tablets but on tablets of human heart. [...] until today, whenever Moses is read aloud, a veil lies upon their heart, but whenever one turns to KYRIOS, the veil is removed. For this is the covenant that I will decree with the house of Israel after those days, says KYRIOS: I am putting my laws [not Ceremonial Laws] in their minds and I will write them on their hearts, and I will be their THEOS and they will be my people. | Jer 31:31-33 Rom 2:14-16 2Cor 3:1-18 Heb 8:10 |

| Ten Commandments | The following overview of the 10 commandments shows us the occurrences in the Old Testament / Covenant, and compares those with the commands / reiterations in the New Covenant and our future. It is comprehensive, but not necessarily complete.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                  |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                        |                                                                                                                                      |                          |

| The Great Commandment | We are to obey the Great Commandment and thus fulfill (= obey; no finality; see Rom 13:10 below) the 10 Commandments. The (2) Great Commandment(s) do not abolish the 10 Commandments, but “summarize” (Rom 13:9) them. Dear friends, I am not writing a new commandment [to love THEOS and others] to you, but an old commandment which you have had from the beginning. The old commandment is the message which you have heard. Dear friends, if our heart does not condemn us, we have confidence before THEOS, and whatever we ask we receive from Him, because we keep His commandments and do what is pleasing in his sight. And this is His commandment: [1, Love THEOS] that we believe in the name of his Son IESOUS CHRISTOS and [2] love one another, just as He commanded us. And the one who keeps His commandments resides in Him, and He in him. And by this we know that He resides in us: by the SPIRIT whom He has given to us. And now I ask you, lady (not as if I were writing a new commandment to you, but one that we have had from the beginning), that we should love one another. And this is love: that we walk according to His commandments. This is the commandment, just as you have heard from the beginning, so that you should walk in it. | 1Joh 2:7 1Joh 3:21-24 2Joh 1:5-6 |

| CHRISTOS Intensified The Moral Law | The 6 ‘You have heard – but I to say to you’ statements in Matthew. Many Christian pastors teach today that IESOUS put all the laws (without differentiation) away and made Christianity easy. This is contrary to Matthew 5, where it becomes clear that IESOUS, despite of having abolished Old Covenant Law and death penalties for all sets of laws, intensified the relevance of the Moral Law (10 commandments) written on stone. | [1] You heard that it was declared to the first men: You shall not murder. | Instructions | Many will say to me in that day: “KYRIOS KYRIOS, did we not prophesy in your name? And in your name we have cast out demons, and in your name we did many deeds of power!” [...] I never knew you. Depart from me, those committing lawlessness.’ And He spoke to him: “Why do you ask me concerning the good? One is Good. “If however, you desire to enter into life, keep the Commands!” Therefore no one will be declared righteous lawfully by the works of the law [sacrifices, ...]; rather, through the Law we become conscious of our sin. [...] Do we, then, nullify the Law by this faith? Not at all! Rather, we uphold the Law. Is the law sinful? Certainly not! Nevertheless, I would not have known what sin was had it not been for the law. For I would not have known what coveting really was if the law had not said, “You shall not covet.” [...] So then, the law is holy, and the Commandment is holy, righteous and good. But if you show partiality, you commit sin, and thus are convicted by the [Moral] Law [of CHRISTOS to love your neighbor] as transgressors. For whoever keeps the whole [Moral] Law but stumbles in one point only has become guilty of all of it. [...] Now if you do not commit adultery but you do murder, you have become a transgressor of the [Moral] Law. My little children, these things I write to you, that you may not sin: and if any one may sin, an advocate we have with the FATHER, IESOUS CHRISTOS, a righteous One, and He – he is a propitiation for our sins, and not for ours only, but also for the whole world, and in this we know that we have known Him, if His commands we may keep; he who is saying, ‘I have known Him,’ and His command is not keeping, a liar he is, and in him the truth is not; and whoever may keep His Word, abide in him the love of THEOS both now and forever; in this we know that in Him we are. He who is saying in Him he does remain, ought according as He walked also himself so to walk. For this is the love of THEOS: that we keep His Commandments. And His Commandments are not burdensome, because everyone who is fathered by THEOS conquers the world. Here is the patient endurance of the saints, those who keep the Commandments of THEOS and the faith in IESOUS. | Mat 7:21-23 Mat 19:17 Rom 3:20-31 Rom 7:12 Jam 2:9-11 1Joh 2:1-6 1Joh 5:3-4 Rev 14:12 |

| The concept of tithing was part of the Civil Laws to the Israelites, for supporting the Levites, foreigners, orphans and widows. Today we are to give, whatever THEOS puts on our heart. 10% can be a rough orientation, but THEOS is glad if we give more and does not judge us if we give less. We should value our riches in CHRISTOS so highly that we would simply love to give. |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                         |                                                                         |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                         |                                    |

| The Sabbath Day was already part of THEOS' creation and therefore could not be part of the temporary Ceremonial Laws, but had been formalized by THEOS through the 4th Commandment. IESOUS' followers obeyed the Weekly Sabbath at least 18 times after His death (Acts 1 – 14), including several times after the regulatory Jerusalem Council (Acts 15 onward).                            |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                         |                                                                         |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                         |                                    |

| Today we don't give ' sacrifices ' anymore. IESOUS CHRISTOS abolished animal-, burnt-, fellowship-, grain-, guilt-, sin- and wave-offerings, by making atonement once for all for our sins. 'Freewill offerings' (act of worship or fulfillment of a vow), which were usually brought as burnt or peace offerings, have been replaced by the material or monetary 'giving'.           |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                         |                                                                         |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                         |                                    |
