Discipline	By THEOS · to His followers (Old Covenant).	“And if in spite of these things you do not listen to me, then I will continue to discipline you seven times for your sins. And you should know with your heart that as a man disciplines his son, so KYRIOS your THEOS is disciplining you. “But consider the joy of those corrected by THEOS! Do not despise the discipline of the ALMIGHTY when you sin. For though He wounds, He also bandages. He strikes, but His hands also heal. So He opens their ear to the discipline, and He commands that they return from mischief. If they listen and serve Him, they complete their days in prosperity and their years in pleasantness. But if they do not listen, they perish by the sword, and they pass away without knowledge. O KYRIOS, do not rebuke me in your anger, and do not discipline me in your wrath. KYRIOS has disciplined me severely, but He did not consign me to death. Open to me the gates of righteousness, that I may enter through them and give thanks to KYRIOS. He who loves discipline loves knowledge, but he who hates rebuke is stupid. Yet they did not listen, and they did not incline their ear, and they hardened their neck so as to not hear, nor to receive discipline. You disciplined me, and I was disciplined, like a calf that is not trained. Bring me back and let me return, for you are KYRIOS my THEOS.	Lev 26:18 Deu 8:5 Job 5:17-18 Job 36:10-12 Psa 6:1-2 Psa 118:19 Pro 12:1 Jer 17:23 Jer 31:18
	By THEOS · to His followers (New Covenant).	Because of this, many are weak and sick among you, and quite a few have died. But if we were evaluating ourselves, we would not be judged. But if we are judged by the KYRIOS, we are being disciplined, in order that we will not be condemned ... Now because we are fellow workers, we also urge you not to receive the grace of THEOS in vain. [...] commending ourselves as servants of THEOS in every way [...] and behold, we go on living, as disciplined, and yet not put to death, as grieving, but always rejoicing, as poor, but making many rich, as having nothing, and possessing everything. “My son, do not make light of the KYRIOS' discipline, or give up when you are corrected by Him. For KYRIOS disciplines the one whom He loves, and punishes every son whom He accepts.” Endure it for discipline. THEOS is dealing with you as sons. For what son is there whom a FATHER does not discipline? But if you are without discipline, in which all legitimate sons have become participants, then you are illegitimate and not sons. [...] He does so for our benefit, in order that we can have a share in His holiness. Now all discipline seems for the moment not to be joyful but painful, but later it yields the peaceful fruit of righteousness for those who are trained by it. As many as I love, I reprove and discipline. Be zealous, therefore, and repent!	1Cor 11:32 2Cor 6:1-10 Heb 12:5-11 Rev 3:19
	By THEOS · to His church.	But Peter said, “Ananias, for what reason has Satan filled your heart, that you lied to the HOLY SPIRIT and kept back for yourself some of the proceeds of the piece of land? When it remained to you, did it not remain yours? And when it was sold, was it at your disposal? How is it that you have contrived this deed in your heart? You have not lied to people, but to THEOS!” And when Ananias heard these words, he fell down and died. [...] And great fear came on the whole church and on all who heard about these things.	Act 5:3-11
	By a father or mother · to their children.	A wise child hears the discipline of a father, but a scoffer does not listen to a rebuke. Discipline your child, for there is hope, but on his destruction do not set your desire. Do not withhold discipline from a child, if you will beat him with the rod, he will not die. Discipline your children, and they will give you rest, and they will give delight to your soul. And fathers, do not make your children angry, but bring them up in the discipline and instruction of the KYRIOS.	Pro 13:1 Pro 19:18 Pro 23:13 Pro 29:17 Eph 6:4
	Self-discipline!	And have you completely forgotten the exhortation which instructs you as sons? [...] For what son is there whom a father does not discipline? [...] Will we not much rather subject ourselves to the FATHER of SPIRITS and live? For they disciplined us for a few days according to what seemed appropriate to them, but He does so for our benefit, in order that we can have a share in His holiness. Run in such a way that you may win. And everyone who competes exercises self-control in all things. Thus those do so in order that they may receive a perishable crown, but we an imperishable one. Therefore I run in this way, not as running aimlessly; I box in this way, not as beating the air. But I discipline my body and subjugate it ... For THEOS has not given us a spirit of cowardice, but of power and love and self-discipline.	Heb 12:5-10 1Cor 9:24-27 2Tit 1:7

Laziness

Laziness is severely condemned in Scripture. But Christians surprisingly do not see it as sinful and apply two different standards e.g. when it comes to judge drunkenness and to rarely judge laziness.

Strong's H6102, יָשֵׁן, 'âtsêl, aw-tsale, From H6101; indolent: - slothful, sluggish.

Strong's G3636, ΟΚΝΗΠΟC, oknēros, From G3635; tardy, that is, indolent; (figuratively) irksome: - grievous, slothful.

Strong's G3576, ΝΩΠΟC, nōthros, From a derivative of G3541; sluggish, that is, (literally) lazy, or (figuratively) stupid: - dull, slothful.

Go to the ant, O sluggard; consider her ways, and be wise. Without having any chief, officer, or ruler, she prepares her bread in summer and gathers her food in harvest. How long will you lie there, O sluggard? When will you arise from your sleep? A little sleep, a little slumber, a little folding of the hands to rest, and poverty will come upon you like a robber, and want like an armed man.

The soul of the sluggard craves and gets nothing, while the soul of the diligent is richly supplied.

The way of a sluggard is like a hedge of thorns, but the path of the upright is a level highway.

The sluggard buries his hand in the dish and will not even bring it back to his mouth.

The sluggard does not plow in the autumn; he will seek at harvest and have nothing.

The desire of the sluggard kills him, for his hands refuse to labor. All day long he craves and craves, but the righteous gives and does not hold back.

I passed by the field of a sluggard, by the vineyard of a man lacking sense, and behold, it was all overgrown with thorns; the ground was covered with nettles, and its stone wall was broken down. Then I saw and considered it; I looked and received instruction. A little sleep, a little slumber, a little folding of the hands to rest, and poverty will come upon you like a robber, and want like an armed man.

The sluggard says, "There is a lion in the road! There is a lion in the streets!" As a door turns on its hinges, so does a sluggard on his bed. The sluggard buries his hand in the dish; it wears him out to bring it back to his mouth. The sluggard is wiser in his own eyes than seven men who can answer sensibly.

One of the Cretans, a prophet of their own, said, "Cretans are always liars, evil beasts, lazy gluttons."

But his master answered him, 'You wicked and slothful servant! You knew that I reap where I have not sown and gather where I scattered no seed?'

Do not be slothful in zeal, be fervent in spirit, serve the KYRIOS.

And we desire each one of you to show the same earnestness to have the full assurance of hope until the end, so that you may not be sluggish, but imitators of those who through faith and patience inherit the promises.
