

THE CREATION

Old Earth - Young Creation (OEYC)

THEOS the Father.

THEOS, the source of everything. With no beginning and no end.

THEOS the Son.

The Son, firstborn of all creation (Col 1:15-18). In divine essence and as deity eternal. In the person of IESOUS CHRISTOS with a specific beginning as the word 'Son' and Micah 5:2 ('His origins were from the beginning, from the days of the age.') indicate. IESOUS is also called in Rev 3:14 'the beginning of THEOS' creation' (The Bible stipulates different 'beginnings!') and THEOS is the Head of CHRISTOS (1Cor 11:3). Very long before humanity.

Pre-Incarnate ANGEL OF KYRIOS

The foundation of the Earth.

Created by THEOS the Father through CHRISTOS (Heb 1:1-3).
The HOLY SPIRIT is hovering over an entirely flooded foundation of the earth. No land. No life or death.

The Creation Week.
6 days of work,
24 hours of rest.

- Day 1 · Separation between day and night (probably the earth rotation)
- Day 2 · Creation of the earth's atmosphere. Intelligently designed water cycle with its sky, clouds and winds.
- Day 3 · Creation of mountains and rivers. Separation of land and water. Creation of vegetation.
- Day 4 · Creation of permanent lights - the sun, moon and stars.
- Day 5 · Creation of aquatic animals and birds.
- Day 6 · Creation of land animals and the first human(s), Adam.
- Day 7 · The origin of all Weekly Sabbaths.

The 'First / Chief of His Creation'.

Dinosaur-like creatures (Job 40:15ff) existed at least until the time of the Exodus and were not entirely extinct by the worldwide flood, but by the well-documented drying-up of the Middle East with few remaining rivers today. Job was the 5th from Abraham (-1700 BC; see addendum of Job 42:17ff in the Greek OT).

The Saved.

Created. With an individual beginning. With no end (eternity) after the resurrection.

The Unsaved.

Created. With an individual beginning. With no end (eternity) after the resurrection.

Scripture

Prologue

... the SON He loves, in whom we have the redemption, the forgiveness of sins, who is the image of the invisible THEOS, the first-born over all creation, because all things in the heavens and on the earth were created by Him, things visible and things invisible, whether thrones or dominions or rulers or powers, all things were created through Him and for Him, and He Himself is before all things, and in Him all things are held together, and He Himself is the head of the body, the church ...

Col 1:12-20

... He has spoken to us by a SON [IESOUS CHRISTOS], whom He appointed Heir of all things, through whom also He made the world, who is the radiance of His glory and the representation of His essence, sustaining all things by the word of power.

Definitions	Both Old Earth Creationism (OEC) and Young Earth Creationism (YEC) miss the mark - and only deepen the split by assuming two extreme and unbiblical positions.

The Bible actually teaches us a what I would coin as Old Earth-Young Creation (OEYC) - with a planet earth pre-existing since an unknown time, being 'furnished' in ~ 5500 BC in a spontaneous and divine act within 6 literal days with the first animals, humans and plants, while engineering the existing waters the HOLY SPIRIT was hovering over, into an intelligently designed water cycle.

- Before the Creation Week -

Genesis 1:1-2 "In (the) beginning, THEOS made the heaven and the earth. And the earth was unseeable and unprepared, and darkness upon the abyss, and a breath of THEOS was hovering over the water.

Pre-Existence Of The Earth's Foundation	Condition of the planet earth:	Scripture
Very important point, because after creation day #2, there would never be again universal darkness above the abyss, except in the book of Revelation. Does this constitute a 'Gap-Theory'? Many believers react irrationally to what they call the 'Gap-Theory', because they blindly suspect an underlying intention of justifying evolution and millions of years. But upon a detailed study of the Word it becomes clear that a supposed product of what unbelieving scientists coined 'evolution', could in theory have survived Noah's flood (the life inside the Ark), but definitely not the initial flood, when only THEOS' breath / the SPIRIT was hovering over the deep waters. Thus there was no life before the creation week. Consequently, the pre-existence of the earth has absolutely no relevance for us and this tiny passage of Gen 1:1-2 simply informs us that the unfurnished planet earth / the foundations of the world existed before the biblical creation account starts in Gen 1:3. The only real relevance might exist in the fact that certain dating methods, although I highly question their reliability in general, could have more value than we critics think based on the very old foundation of the earth. If the 'base material' is very old, then this could explain (at least in parts) why e.g. much younger geographical formations are dated significantly older than they actually are.	1. No mountains (Pro 8:25). 2. No dry land (Pro 8:26). All land is covered by waters (Gen 1:2) (Initial flood, before Noah's flood!). 3. 'Unprepared / unfurnished' (Gen 1:2). 4. There is darkness above the water.	1 In (the) beginning [no article 'the' (technically it means 'a beginning' nor any indication of the original date), THEOS made the heaven and the earth. 2 And [rather indicating that time had elapsed since the beginning; some translations also use 'now'] the earth was [Imperfect: in Koine Greek, the imperfect tense primarily expresses past time with continuous, ongoing, and incomplete action; Strong's G2258] unseeable [AOPATOC, aoratos - Strong's G1 alpha privative: not-, without-, un- & G3707 horatos: capable of being seen, gazed at, visible; most translations of the Greek text use 'invisible', but the earth was certainly not 'invisible', but 'unseeable' while covered with the deep waters, which is a significant difference. THEOS is also not invisible, but He is unseeable to us until the end times] and unprepared, [AKATAKEYACTOC, akataskeuastos - Strong's G1 alpha privative: not-, without-, un- & G2680 kataskeuwazo: to prepare thoroughly; by implication to construct, create: - build, make, ordain, prepare] and darkness upon the abyss, and a breath of THEOS was hovering over the water. Further Reference to the Word 'Beginning' [Creation] For since the fathers fell asleep [=since the moment humans existed and died], all things so remain from the beginning of creation ['beginning' here clearly not referring to the absolute beginning, but to Gen 1:3 onwards]." [Pre-creation] For this they willingly conceal, that the heavens existed long ago [= previously to the sentence above = before creation] and the earth having been established by the Word of THEOS ["Word" = absolute beginning], out of water and through water, through which the world then, having been flooded by water, was destroyed; and by the same Word, the present heavens and earth, having been stored up for fire, are being preserved until [the] day of judgment and destruction of impious men.

Which Beginning Is Meant In Genesis 1:1?	The foundation of the planet earth and the heaven had already been created by THEOS 'in a / (the) beginning' (Gen 1:1), a term associated in John 1 with THEOS' Word.	Scripture
	The key for organizing the chronological aspect of the word 'Beginning', is to compare it in both the Greek New and Old Testament, and to specifically compare it with 'Wisdom' created before the Creation Week. Just as THEOS the FATHER created WISDOM before the age of humankind in the time of the beginning, so CHRISTOS created the earth in the time of the beginning, before the age of humankind and therefore before the creation week.	In a [no article for 'the'] beginning was the Word [Logos], and the Word was with THEOS, and the Word was THEOS. This one was in a beginning with THEOS. Which Heaven Is Meant In Genesis 1:1?	The 'Heaven' in Genesis 1:1 cannot refer to our sky with its clouds and winds, because this is clearly part of creation day #2. It either refers to the Spiritual Heaven which is clearly not part of the creation week and certainly existed long before the earth and / or to the Universe, but this being empty at that stage, because its bodies would only be created on creation day #4.	Scripture
	THEOS created the heaven(s) in one area (if we believe His Word without reservations) and literally stretched them out, creating the seemingly infinite universe. Hubble recognized already in 1929 that the universe was expanding. Today, most astronomers acknowledge that the universe is expanding with a rate of expansion of 73 km/sec/megaparsec. ► see also the Documentary 'G-d of Wonders'. Job then tells us that those heaven(s) will be 'unstitched' in our end times, while . . . . . . Isaiah, Paul (Hebrews) and John then predict the heavens to be rolled up afterwards - the opposite of having been stretched out at creation.	Who alone has stretched out the heavens, and walks on the sea as on firm ground. By the Word of KYRIOS the heavens were made ... The heavens are yours, the earth yours as well, the world with its fullness, because you founded them. ... who stretches out the heaven like a tent curtain ... He is the One who sits above the circle of the earth, and its inhabitants are like grasshoppers; the One who stretches out the heaven like a veil and spreads it out like a tent to live in, the One who ... makes rulers of the earth like nothing. Thus says THEOS the KYRIOS, who created the heaven and stretched it out, who spread out the earth and its offspring, who gives breath to the people upon it and spirit to those who walk in it. And man that has lain down in death shall certainly not rise again till the heaven be unstitched [literally 'not sewed'], and they shall not awake from their sleep. And the skies shall roll up like a scroll ... ... the heavens are the work of your hands. They will perish, but you will endure. And like a garment they will all wear out, you will replace them like clothing, and they will be set aside. "You, KYRIOS, laid the foundation of the earth in the beginning, and the heavens are the works of your hands; they will perish, but you continue, and they will all become old like a garment, and like a robe you will roll them up, and like a garment they will be changed; but you are the same, and your years will not run out." ... a great earthquake took place, and the sun became black like sackcloth made of hair, and the whole moon became like blood, and the stars of heaven fell to the earth [...]. And the sky was split apart like a scroll that is rolled up, and every mountain and island were moved ...

Numbering Pattern of Genesis 1	We have now seen that the creation of the foundation of the earth was clearly -not- part of the creation account. Genesis began with an existing Earth, which was entirely covered by the first worldwide flood and the HOLY SPIRIT was hovering over the deep waters, before THEOS spoke anything into existence in Genesis 1:3. Neither the creation of those deep waters nor of the earth's mantle is found anywhere in the first chapters of Genesis, and we should abstain from mentally injecting something so fundamental into the biblical account.	Scripture
The most common argument against the 'gap' is the claim that the first 2 verses are a summary of the following verses 3-31. But this argument falls instantly flat, when pondering why THEOS would flood an earth He created just hours, or -if really considering a summary- 6 days ago. Even the most biased person has to acknowledge at this point that such a work order of THEOS would be ridiculous. Another limiting factor is the total darkness and absence from any light source while the HOLY SPIRIT was hovering over the deep waters, a situation clearly preceding creation day #1. There is no way around the fact that the first two verses of Genesis show the state of the earth immediately before day #1 of the creation account. Genesis 1 in the Greek Old Testament - displayed by paragraph: Here we clearly see the biblical pattern organized by days: Prelude (Gen 1:1-2) ----- Day 1 (Gen 1:3-5) ΚΑΙ ΕΙΠΕΝ Ο ΘΕΟΣ ... ΗΜΕΡΑ ΜΙΑ. And THEOS spoke ... day one. Day 2 (Gen 1:6-8) ΚΑΙ ΕΙΠΕΝ Ο ΘΕΟΣ ... ΗΜΕΡΑ ΔΕΥΤΕΡΑ. And THEOS spoke ... day two. Day 3 (Gen 1:9-13) ΚΑΙ ΕΙΠΕΝ Ο ΘΕΟΣ ... ΗΜΕΡΑ ΤΡΙΤΗ. And THEOS spoke ... day three. Day 4 (Gen 1:3-5) ΚΑΙ ΕΙΠΕΝ Ο ΘΕΟΣ ... ΗΜΕΡΑ ΤΕΤΑΡΤΗ. And THEOS spoke ... day four. Day 5 (Gen 1:20-23) ΚΑΙ ΕΙΠΕΝ Ο ΘΕΟΣ ... ΗΜΕΡΑ ΠΕΜΠΤΗ. And THEOS spoke ... day five. Day 6 (Gen 1:24-31) ΚΑΙ ΕΙΠΕΝ Ο ΘΕΟΣ ... ΗΜΕΡΑ ΕΚΤΗ. And THEOS spoke ... day six. Day 7 (Gen 2:1-3) ... ΗΜΕΡΑΝ ΤΗΝ ΕΒΔΟΜΗΝ. ... the seventh day.	THEOS created the heaven(s) in one area (if we believe His Word without reservations) and literally stretched them out, creating the seemingly infinite universe. Hubble recognized already in 1929 that the universe was expanding. Today, most astronomers acknowledge that the universe is expanding with a rate of expansion of 73 km/sec/megaparsec. ► see also the Documentary 'G-d of Wonders'. Job then tells us that those heaven(s) will be 'unstitched' in our end times, while . . . . . . Genesis 1:3 And THEOS said: Let there be light!

1st Day approx. 5500 BC, see studies 'Genealogies' and 'Timeline' 24 hours (there was evening and morning) A separation between day and night, and the occurrence of the first 'morning' and 'evening' strongly suggests the creation of the earth rotation (latest) on Day 1. The light came from an unknown source – possibly the same supernatural light of divine glory that will appear in the New Jerusalem, when the sun and all other sources of light will not shine anymore (see Zec 14:5-10). A biblical creation day was not millions of years long –between one morning and its respective evening–, but very close to the 24 hours we measure today. <ol style="list-style-type: none"> If we neglect the first historical Adam, we consequently reject the second historical Adam, namely IESOUS CHRISTOS, who came in the precisely 7th generation after the FATHER, who created the first Adam; and not thousands of generations later. <ul style="list-style-type: none"> While <ol style="list-style-type: none"> The genealogies in Genesis 2, 5 & 11 only reach to Abram, and The genealogies in 1Chronicles 1 only reach to Jacob, and The genealogies in Matthew 1 are based on a dynastic & select, but reliable bloodline. Luke 3 now presents an –unbreakable– chain and enumerates therefore the complete genealogies from Adam to IESOUS CHRIST. Most of our modern-day discussions could be avoided if we would not –often intentionally– ignore Luke 3. <ul style="list-style-type: none"> ▶ see also the study 'Genealogies' Either death came before man (Evolution), or man came before death. Both cannot be true. In the first six days, each day is shaped by a structure: "THEOS said ... Let there be ... There was ... THEOS saw that it was good ... There was evening and morning ...". The seventh day is also numbered like the other days. Why would THEOS wait billions of years for man to evolve if His main intention was to have human life on the earth? We should not limit THEOS based on our limited comprehension to grasp His ability to create unlimited resources in an extremely short time frame such as one literal week. Human imagination does not define in the least the potential of our mighty CREATOR. Morning-morning rhythm. THEOS would have never started all of our days with evil. The darkness of the 24 hour day re–presents evil – Satan's Time. It seems to be widely accepted amongst scholars that days start with a sunset, but this is actually based on a misreading of Gen 1:3, 6, 13, 19,23 & 31. Each verse marks clearly the end of the day and some Bible teachers seem to fade out at this point that THEOS worked before the evening – during the whole 'daylight' time. Gen 1:5 also clearly states that "THEOS called the light day", and we therefore contradict directly the Bible when stating that a day started with darkness. It also does not make sense that THEOS would start a new year with spring (the equivalent to a morning, when the sun appears and life starts afresh), but a day with the night hours. Both days and years start with the light of the sun and its life-giving effect. There are 2 instances in the Old Covenant that include a sunset-sunset rhythm, but both refer to Sabbaths of Sabbaths (Feasts etc., not to Weekly Sabbaths) and do not form a general pattern for all the days of humanity. All biblical times of a day are counted from sunrise, not from sunset: <table border="1"> <tr> <td>1st hour of the day</td> <td>6–7am (sunrise)</td> </tr> <tr> <td>3rd hour of the night</td> <td>9am (Mat 20:3, Mat 27:45, Mar 15:25, Mar 15:33, Act 2:15)</td> </tr> <tr> <td>6th hour of the day</td> <td>12m (Mat 20:5, Mat 27:45, Mar 15:33, Luk 23:44, Joh 4:6, Joh 19:14, Act 10:9)</td> </tr> <tr> <td>7th hour of the day</td> <td>1pm (Joh 4:52)</td> </tr> <tr> <td>9th hour of the day</td> <td>3pm (Mat 20:5, Mat 27:45–6, Mar 15:33, Luk 23:44, Act 3:1, Act 10:3, 30)</td> </tr> <tr> <td>10th hour of the day</td> <td>4pm (Joh 1:39)</td> </tr> <tr> <td>11th hour of the day</td> <td>5pm (Mat 20:6, 9, the last worker still receives a wage)</td> </tr> <tr> <td>3rd hour of the night</td> <td>9pm (Act 23:23)</td> </tr> </table>	1st hour of the day	6–7am (sunrise)	3rd hour of the night	9am (Mat 20:3, Mat 27:45, Mar 15:25, Mar 15:33, Act 2:15)	6th hour of the day	12m (Mat 20:5, Mat 27:45, Mar 15:33, Luk 23:44, Joh 4:6, Joh 19:14, Act 10:9)	7th hour of the day	1pm (Joh 4:52)	9th hour of the day	3pm (Mat 20:5, Mat 27:45–6, Mar 15:33, Luk 23:44, Act 3:1, Act 10:3, 30)	10th hour of the day	4pm (Joh 1:39)	11th hour of the day	5pm (Mat 20:6, 9, the last worker still receives a wage)	3rd hour of the night	9pm (Act 23:23)	AND THEOS SAID, "Let there be light!" But it is not the spiritual that is first but the natural, and then the spiritual. 	Calendar 7 days per week. Months start on the morning after the sighting of the New Moon (first sliver of the Crescent Moon) on the previous day (rather evening). Independently from the New Moon, weeks evolve around the Weekly Sabbath. The Sabbath is the anchor of every week and all other days are simply counted towards / following the Sabbath. ▶ see also the study 'Sabbaths' with more details Who would have thought that the Book of Psalms contains one of the most remarkable definitions of the Biblical Week? While redacting the Greek Old Testament in its original UNICAL letters, this remarkable pattern came to my attention, and it provides food for thought why those important introductions to the respective chapters are often cut short in many Bible translations. In the same manner King David fully affirmed the Weekly Sabbath being the seventh day and the day before IESOUS' resurrection, so we should do the same with an unbiased and open heart.	<table border="1"> <tr> <td>1</td> <td>2</td> <td>3</td> <td>4</td> <td>5</td> <td>6</td> <td>7</td> <td>Mat 28:1-8</td> </tr> <tr> <td>'One towards Sabbath'</td> <td>'Two towards Sabbath'</td> <td>'Three towards Sabbath'</td> <td>'Four towards Sabbath'</td> <td>'Five towards Sabbath'</td> <td>'Six towards Sabbath'</td> <td>'Sabbath / Seventh Sabbath' Day'</td> <td></td> </tr> <tr> <td>ΜΙΑ CABBATON</td> <td>ΔΕΥΤΕΡΟC ΗΜΕΡΑ</td> <td>ΤΡΙΤΟC ΗΜΕΡΑ</td> <td>ΤΕΤΑΡΤΟC ΗΜΕΡΑ</td> <td>ΠΕΜΠΤΟC ΗΜΕΡΑ</td> <td>ΕΚΤΟC ΗΜΕΡΑ</td> <td>ΚΑΒΒΑΤΩΝ</td> <td></td> </tr> <tr> <td colspan="8">Common Translation & Modern Equivalent:</td> </tr> <tr> <td>First Day Of The Week</td> <td>Second Day Of The Week</td> <td>Third Day Of The Week</td> <td>Fourth Day Of The Week</td> <td>Fifth Day Of The Week</td> <td>Sixth Day Of The Week</td> <td>Sabbath</td> <td></td> </tr> <tr> <td>Sunday</td> <td>Monday</td> <td>Tuesday</td> <td>Wednesday</td> <td>Thursday</td> <td>Friday</td> <td>Saturday</td> <td></td> </tr> </table> ΨΑΛΜΟC ΤΩ ΔΑΥΙΔ. 360 days per year. A calendar year was not 370 days long as the Masoretic text (most modern translations such as AMR, ESV, KJV, NASB, NIV, NLT, ...) suggest, but exactly 360 days divided into 12 months of 30 days each, as the Greek Old Testament proves through the correct flood dates (▶ see study 'Flood'). The flood (opening of the abyss until leaving the ark) lasted exactly 360 days (not 370 nor 371 nor any other number). 360 days are also specified in the time of the tribulation (Rev 11:3 with 1260 days - Rev 13:5 with 42 months - 1260 days / 42 months = 30 days). Another –although secondary– proof for 30 days is the average of 29.99 days between a lunar month of 29.53 days and a solar month of 30.44 days. 12 Months per year. Some 13th century calendar include a periodic year in today's calendar Adar (2) and Abib (1). This imperfection is product of the fall of man and probably caused by the flood (▶ see study 'Flood'). THEOS created originally a perfect 12-month-and a 360-day year.	And it came about after the seven days, that the water of the flood came on the earth. Every biblical Month starts the morning after a New Moon sighting. This is not based on the modern definition using the day that was formerly called 'Dark Moon', but on the traditional definition, where the 'new' is used according to its logical meaning – the first visible crescent / sliver on the day after the moon is dark. The word 'sign' in Gen 1:14 is the decisive clue to exclude any Dark or Full Moon from being a candidate for the New Moon. The moon cannot be a visible sign to determine seasons or biblical festivals if it is hidden or dark. The 'Dark Moon' lasts from 21 to 26 hours, therefore the real 'New Moon' / Waxing Crescent occurs 1 day after the date indicated in the common moon phases calendars. Moon Phases Calendar: Timeanddate.com Dark Moon (Modern New Moon; lasts 25-26 hours) True New Moon (First Crescent) The New Year / Months starts the morning after the First Crescent is being sighted. 0 – Dark Moon 1 – First Crescent 2 – Declaration of New Month / Year (effectively 2 days after the Dark Moon if the correct sunrise-rhythm of a biblical day is applied; 1 day after if the erroneous sunset-rhythm is applied because the moon phases are generally observed in the evenings).	And the flax and the barley were struck, because the barley was in the ear and the flax was in bud [in the days before the Passover, when the plagues hit Egypt]. But the wheat and the spelt were not struck, because they are late-ripening [3rd month, Sivan]. Today, in the month of Abib [Strong's H24 = tender, green, that is a young ear of grain, green ears of corn / Greek G3501 ΜΗΝΙ ΝΕΩΝ, mení ton neon = New Month], you are going out. And KYRIOS said to Moses and to Aaron in the land of Egypt, saying, "This month will be the beginning of months; it will be for you the first of the months of the year. Speak to all the community of Israel, saying, 'On the tenth of this month, they will each take for themselves a lamb for the family [...]. You will keep it until the fourteenth day of this month, and all the assembly of the community of Israel will slaughter it at twilight. [...] It is KYRIOS' Passover. In the first month, on the fourteenth of the month at the evening is KYRIOS' Passover. And THEOS said, "Let there be lights in the expanse of the heaven to separate the day from the night. And let them be for signs and for seasons, and for days and years, and let them be lights in the expanse of the heaven to give light upon the earth." And it was so. He made the moon to mark the seasons; the sun knows its time for setting. You make darkness, and it is night, when all the beasts of the forest creep about. David said to Jonathan, "Look, tomorrow is the new month [Strong's 2320; commonly translated with 'new moon', but 'new month' is more reasonable because the sighting of the new moon was by chance and could not be precalculated], and I should certainly [= the new moon was already observed during the day / sunset they spoke] sit with the king to eat. You must send me away so that I can hide myself in the field until the third evening [clear inference to third day of the month]. [...] For the yearly sacrifice is there for all the clan.' [...] I will question my father by this time the day after tomorrow. [...] Then Jonathan said to him, "Tomorrow is the new month, and you will be missed, for your seat will stay empty. On the third day you must go down quickly [...]. So David hid himself in the field. When the new month came, the king was seated at the feast. [...] he thought, "Something happened to him. Time	Event / Comment	Scripture
2nd Day	Vertical separation of the waters (Heaven ⇕ Earth).
	24 hours (there was evening and morning)	Creation of the earth's atmosphere (expanse of earth) with its sky, clouds and winds. The firmament / separation / expanse cannot be a canopy as e.g. proposed in the book 'The Genesis Flood by Whitcomb', because it is called 'heaven' in verse 8, using the same word the Bible later uses over and over for our sky (G3772 OYPA-NON). The word 'heaven(s)' has other designations (such as the spiritual Heavens; see separate word study), but this does not give us an allowance to create yet another designation and to accommodate the same word for two vastly different systems describing our sky. ▶ see also the detailed word study on 'Heavens'.	AND THEOS SAID, "Let there be ... separation [expanse] between the waters ... which were under the vaulted dome and between the waters which were over the vaulted dome. And it was so. And THEOS called the vaulted dome "heaven." And there was evening, and there was morning, a SECOND DAY. He ties up the water in its clouds, and the cloud is not torn open beneath it.	Gen 1:6-8 Job 26:8
		Different forms of precipitations.	For to the snow He says, 'Fall on the earth'; and the shower of rain, His heavy shower of rain – He stops all human beings from working [...] "The storm wind comes from its chamber and cold from the north wind. By THEOS' breath, ice is given, and the broad waters are frozen. Also, He loads down thick clouds with moisture; His lightning scatters the clouds. "Who has cut open a channel for the torrents and a way for the thunderbolts, to bring rain ... and to cause the ground to put forth the rising of grass?	Job 37:6-11 Job 38:25-27
	Many scholars claim that it did not rain in the ~2200 years before the flood – assuming an unlimited continuation of the status described in Gen 2:5, solely based on the later mention of the rainbow as a sign.	... in the day in which THEOS made the heaven and the earth, and every herb of the field before it was on the earth, and all the grass of the field before it sprang up, for [but: implies that plants of the field only could exist after rain would have occurred] THEOS had not rained on the earth, and there was not a man to cultivate it. But there rose a fountain out of the earth, and watered the whole face of the earth.	Gen 2:4-5
	1. Genesis 2:5 is directly equated with 'no man to cultivate it'. It is clear from further context, that Adam and his sons were very soon commanded to cultivate the earth, meaning that the content of this verse was fulfilled not only after 2200 years, but almost certainly within the very first year of creation.	So THEOS the KYRIOS put him forth from the garden of Eden, to till the ground [implying rain] wherefrom he had been taken.	Gen 3:23
	2. The consecration of the element 'rainbow' does not really say anything about the moment of its first appearance. We read too much into the Bible, when we assume that a rainbow appeared for the first time after the flood. THEOS connected it in this moment to a covenant (in the same way a dove did not come into existence at CHRISTOS' baptism), but this does not mean he created it in this moment.	And THEOS the KYRIOS said to Noe, this is the sign of the covenant which I set between me and you, and between every living creature which is with you for perpetual generations. I set my bow in the cloud, and it shall be for a sign of covenant between me and the earth. And it shall be when I gather clouds upon the earth, that my bow shall be seen in the cloud. And I will remember my covenant, which is between me and you, and between every living soul in all flesh, and there shall no longer be water for a deluge, so as to blot out all flesh. And my bow shall be in the cloud, and I will look to remember the everlasting covenant between me and the earth, and between every living soul in all flesh, which is upon the earth. And THEOS said to Noe, This is the sign of the covenant, which I have made between me and all flesh, which is upon the earth.	Gen 9:12-17
	3. The existence of springs or mist in the first days of creation does also not imply the absence of rain. Springs are still found today all over the world – active simultaneously with rain.	But there rose a fountain out of the earth, and watered the whole face of the earth.	Gen 2:6
	4. Noah would not have had any building materials for his ark if it would not have rained. He required hundreds or thousands of trees, and we can hardly assume that he planted and manually watered those for decades with spring waters, nor did THEOS indicate him at any point to plant trees which require years or decades to grow to a size suitable for a gigantic ark.	... and, man, was there none to till the ground [Adam had not been created yet]; but, a vapour, went up from the earth, – and watered all the face of the ground. So then [= after the initial days of no rain] THEOS formed man of the dust of the ground [...] And THEOS caused to spring up, out of the ground, every tree pleasant to the sight and good for food [...] So THEOS the KYRIOS took the man, and placed him in the garden of Eden, to till it and to keep it. And who prepared a course for the violent rain, and a way for the thunders; 26 to rain upon the land where there is no man, the wilderness, where there is not a man in it; so as to feed the untroudden and uninhabited land, 27 and cause it to send forth a crop of green herbs?	Gen 2:5-15 Job 38:25-27
	3rd Day	Horizontal separation of the waters (Oceans ↔ Land). First appearance of any land. Creation of vegetation.
		24 hours (there was evening and morning)	Creation of mountains and rivers. Some conclusions:	Mountains May KYRIOS be glad in His works, the one who looks at the earth and it quakes, and touches the mountains and they smoke. ... the heights of the mountains are His, to whom belongs the sea that He made, and the dry land that His hands formed. The stork has its home in the fir trees. The high mountains are for the wild goats, the cliffs are a refuge for the rock badgers. ... there was a great earthquake, as has not happened from the time humanity has been on the earth [clearly indicating an immense earthquake before day 6; causing the creation of mountains and continental shifts]
1. Genesis 1:2 describes the Earth as formless = without mountains.			Now a river flowed out from Eden that watered the garden, and from there it diverged and became four branches. You are the one who waters the mountains from His upper chambers.	Gen 2:10 Psa 104:13
2. Rivers – naturally requiring the slope and feed of a mountain (rainfall, snow) – existed with the Garden of Eden (e.g. Euphrates ...).			AND THEOS SAID, "Let the waters under heaven be gathered to one place, and let the dry ground appear." And it was so. And THEOS called the dry ground "earth," and He called the collection of the waters "seas." And THEOS saw that it was good. [referring to both the initial and Noah's flood] You covered it with the deep as with a garment. The waters stood above the mountains. At your rebuke they fled; at the sound of your thunder they ran off. They ascended the mountains and drained though the valleys to the place that you established for them. You set a boundary that they may not cross over, so that they would not return to cover the earth. To Him who spread –out– the earth above the waters ... "Or who shut the sea in with doors at its bursting, when it went out of the womb, ... and I set bars and doors, and I said, 'You shall come up to here, but you shall not go further, and here it will set a boundary for your proud surging waves?' For I have placed the sand as a boundary for the sea, as an everlasting limit ... its waves roar, but they cannot pass over it.	Gen 1:9-13 Psa 104:6-9 Psa 136:6 Job 38:8-11 Jer 5:22
3. Mountains are usually formed as a result of plate tectonics (in some cases through volcanoes). The separation of e.g. Australia from Asia, initiated probably shortly after creation (fall of Adam), continued at a slower pace between the creation and the flood, had again been catalyzed during the flood year and continues to date at a very slow pace as continually recorded by scientists. ▶ see also the detailed study on the 'Flood'.			Who gathers the waters of the sea [thalasses] as in a bottle; who lays up the abyss [abyssous] in treasuries. Abyss – A Brief Word Study (36x Greek OT; 9x Greek NT) But the earth was unsightly and unfurnished, and darkness was over the abyss [oceans did possibly not yet exist], and the SPIRIT of THEOS moved over the water. In the six hundredth year of the life of Noe, in the second month, on the twenty-seventh day of the month, on this day all the fountains of the abyss were broken up [primary, major water source for the flood], and the flood-gates of heaven were opened [secondary, minor water source]. For KYRIOS thy THEOS will bring thee into a good and extensive land, where there are torrents of waters, and fountains of the abyss issuing through the plains and through the mountains. And to Joseph he said, His land is of the blessing of KYRIOS, of the seasons of sky and dew, and of the depths of abyss wells ... The abyss [abyssos] said, It is not in me: and the sea [thalassa] said, It is not with me. Or hast thou gone to the source of the sea, and walked in the recesses of the abyss? He makes the abyss boil like a brazen caldron ... He clave a rock in the wilderness, and made them drink as in a great abyss. The abyss, as it were a garment, is his covering: the waters shall stand on the hills. ... all that KYRIOS willed, he did in heaven, and on the earth, in the sea, and in all abysses. He established me before time was in the beginning, before He made the earth: even before He made the abyss; before the fountains of water came forth ... Art thou not it that dried the sea, the water, even the abundance of the abyss; that made the depths of the sea a way of passage for the delivered and redeemed? And they [the demons] begged him not to command them to depart into the abyss. And the fifth angel blew his trumpet, and I saw a star fallen from heaven to earth, and he was given the key to the shaft of the abyss. [General verse] ... the heavens existed long ago and the earth held together out of water and through water by the word of THEOS ...	Gen 1:2 Gen 7:11 Deu 8:7 Deu 33:13 Job 28:14 Job 38:16 Job 41:23 Psa 72(78):15 Psa 103(104):6 Psa 134(135):6 Pro 8:24 Isa 51:10 Luk 8:31 Rev 9:2 2Pet 3:5

Birds and flying reptiles.	AND THEOS SAID , “Let the waters swarm with swarms of living creatures , and let birds fly over the earth across the face of the vaulted dome of heaven.” So THEOS created the great sea creatures and every living creature that moves, with which the waters swarm, according to their kind, and every bird with wings according to its kind. 	· Dominion over animals. THEOS blessed the sea animals, birds and humans, but left the blessing and even naming of land animals to Adam.		... and let them rule over the fish of the sea, and over the birds of heaven, and over the cattle , and over all the earth , and over every moving thing that moves upon the earth.” ... And THEOS saw everything that He had made and, behold, it was very good. And there was evening, and there was morning, a SIXTH DAY .		Gen 1:30-31
· Diet for humans and animals (after the fall of man).	Every moving thing that lives shall be for you as food. As I gave the green plants to you, I now give you everything . Only you shall not eat raw flesh with blood in it.	Gen 9:3
7th Day
The rest of THEOS and for humanity. Institution of the Weekly Sabbath and the biblical 7-day week, which is still universally adopted.
24 hours (not precised, but numbered in the same way and therefore clearly in continuation with the previous 6 days and the worldwide 7-day-week initiated by THEOS)	The day of THEOS’s rest initiated also the day of rest for humans, formalized as commandment during the Exodus of the Israelites and contained in the Moral Law.	And heaven and earth and all their array were finished. And on the SEVENTH DAY THEOS finished His work that He had done, and He rested on the seventh day from all His work that He had done. ...	Gen 2:1-3
		“Remember the day of the Sabbath , to consecrate it. Six days you will work, and you will do all your work. But the seventh day is a Sabbath for KYRIOS your THEOS; you will not do any work – you or your son or your daughter, your male slave or your female slave, or your animal, or your alien [neighbor] who is in your gates – because in six days KYRIOS made the heaven and the earth , the sea and all that is in them, and on the seventh day He rested .	Exo 20:8-11
		For He has spoken somewhere about the Seventh Day in this way: “And THEOS rested on the Seventh Day from all His works,” [...] Consequently a Sabbath rest remains for the people of THEOS.	Heb 4:4-9
► see also the detailed study ‘Weekly Sabbath!’
Genesis 2
Sometimes the Bible is being questioned because Genesis 2, after concluding the seventh day with verse 3, continues in verse 4 with what some perceive as unnecessary repetition. While Genesis 1 describes the creation of the world from a bird’s-eye view of the universe, chapter 2 zooms in on the land and the Garden of Eden , focusing, in a slightly different order, on the specific environment of the first humans and bridges the gap to the Fall of Man in chapter 3. Every detail in chapter 2 is essential, and the description of the four rivers, for example, helped us identify the region of the former Garden of Eden. (► see separate study).
Even if we were to consider it a repetition, it wouldn’t be harmful, since other topics and books in the Bible are also repeated. The book of Deuteronomy, for instance, is, as its name suggests, the ‘Second Law’, which was previously described in the same Pentateuch. Yet no one would conclude that the entire book is redundant. Joshua 4:10–24 is a repetition of Joshua 3:14–4:10, in which both accounts describe the crossing of the Jordan. The Ten Commandments are repeated several times, and the Evangelium is retold three times by different authors, each with a different emphasis.

Dinosaur-like Creatures

The Beast, First of His Creation.

Let us reflect at the end of this study on the famous passage of Job 40-42, which I nearly overlooked in its significance when casually reading through the book in January 2025, but was then surely motivated by the SPIRIT to read it again and again over the course of several days.

This passage is not only very rich in regards of this mysterious creature, but also the possibly earliest mention of Arabia, and includes the possible Christophany in the form of CHRISTOS speaking through the cloud with a Job telling us to 'have seen KYRIOS'.

The last 3 chapters of Job are extremely rich, also of course culminating in the restoration of Job.

I will quote to the right right hand the chapters 40-42 from Brenton's translation, while excluding [...] as usual that which is not essential for the interpretation of the mysterious beast, and bracket my own comments.

[Chapter 40] And KYRIOS yet again answered and spoke to Job out of the cloud, saying [...] But now look at the wild beasts [plural]; G2342 therion; a dangerous animal: - (venomous, wild) beast] with thee [very important: the Greek text says 'ΑΑΑΑ ΑΗ ΤΑΟΥ ΘΗΡΙΑ ΠΑΡΑ ΣΟΙ' and the words 'para soi' mean 'with you' or 'among you' = those animals lived in Job's time which was in -1750 BC; see below in chapter 42]; they eat grass like oxen [meaning they would have lived rather peacefully with humans if not being provoked]. 16 Behold now, his strength is in his loins, and his force is in the navel of his belly. 17 He sets up his tail like a cypress [points to an impressive creature with a very long tail]; and his nerves are wrapped together. 18 His sides are sides of brass [could be read as mystical, but rather makes a point by underlining his strength]; and his backbone is as cast iron [same as before, not necessarily literal cast iron, but underlining his solid shell].

19 This is the chief of the creation of KYRIOS [the translation 'chief' is technically correct but might not be the right choice here; humans are the actual chief of his creation; the translator should have rather chosen the more obvious meaning of 'first' or 'beginning' of the word G746 'arche', meaning it was the very first animal KYRIOS created]; made to be played with [other translations 'mocked at'] by his angels. 20 And when he has gone up to a steep mountain, he causes joy to the quadrupeds in the deep. 21 He lies under trees of every kind, by the papyrus, and reed, and bulrush [which does not mean that he is smaller than a tree - only while lying down]. 22 And the great trees make a shadow over him with their branches, and so do the bushes of the field [a bad translation which has probably oriented itself on the Masoretic text - the NETS translation reads and all tall trees find themselves in its shade, with limbs, as do the chaste-tree's branches] - the Greek text 'CKIA-ZONTAI AE EN AYTO ΔΕΝΑΡΑ ΜΕΤΑΑΑ CYN ΠΑΔΑΜΝΟΙΚ ΚΑΙ ΚΑΩΝΕC ΑΓΝΟΥ' implies through 'en auto' clearly 'in him' meaning that not only give the trees shade to him while lying down, but that he actually gives shade to the trees in his normal posture].

23 If there should be a flood, he will not perceive it [clear proof for its enormous size if he would not even be affected by a local flood]; he trusts that Jordan will rush up into his mouth [this does not mean that his mouth was as big as the diameter of the stream of the Jordan, but once again THEOS makes a point here that the beast is not only solid as brass and cast iron, but also very huge]. 24 Yet one shall take him in his sight; one shall catch him with a cord, and pierce his nose. [meaning he cannot be caught nor tamed by humans because of its sheer size] 25 But wilt thou catch the serpent with a hook, and put a halter about his nose? 26 Or wilt thou fasten a ring in his nostril, and bore his lip with a clasp? 27 Will he address thee with a petition? softly, with the voice of a suppliant? 28 And will he make a covenant with thee? and wilt thou take him for a perpetual servant? 29 And wilt thou play with him as with a bird? or bind him as a sparrow for a child? 30 And do the nations feed upon him, and the nations of the Phenicians share him? [unclear if this is only a rhetorical question or if the beast was indeed as big as to be food for multitudes of peoples] 31 And all the ships come together would not be able to bear the mere skin of his tail; neither shall they carry his head in fishing-vessels [clear indication that his head was taller than an ordinary boat]. 32 But thou shalt lay thy hand upon him once, remembering the war that is waged by his mouth; and let it not be done any more.

Job 40:6-32

- The beast eats grass like oxen.
- Sets up his tail like a cypress tree.
- Probably the very first (animal) of THEOS' creation.
- It does not care about a local flood because it is taller than even a few meters of water.
- Tall trees find themselves in its shade.
- Its armour is not literal stone, but has a very strong texture which comes close to smyrite stone.

[Chapter 41 ...] 4 I will not be silent because of him: though because of his power one shall pity his antagonist. 5 Who will open the face of his garment? and who can enter within the fold of his breast-plate? 6 Who will open the doors of his face? terror is round about his teeth. 7 His inward are as brazen plates, and the texture of his skin as a smyrite stone [at this point it is obvious that although being a real beast, the descriptions are sometimes so as to make a point by using absolutes = his skin or rather armour is not literal stone, but has a very strong texture which comes close to smyrite stone]. [...] 11 Out of his mouth proceed as it were burning lamps [other translation 'flaming torches'. [This is usually used to discredit the account as mystical, but we know well from other animals which also feed on grass, precisely cows, that they regularly release significant amounts of methane gas which have not only a significant effect on the climate but have also caused explosions in cow sheds; this means that the beast would have only required a mechanism to ignite what he anyway erupts throughout the day and that his feature of an ultra-sturdy armour would have protected itself from any harm through the temporary flame], and as it were hearths of fire are cast abroad.

The addendum of Job 42:17ff is clearly affirmed by ...

[Chapter 42 ...] 12 And KYRIOS blessed the latter end of Job, more than the beginning [...] 16 And Job lived after his affliction a hundred and seventy years: and all the years he lived were two hundred and forty: and Job saw his sons and his sons' sons, the fourth generation. [... now follows the addendum from the 'Syriac Book', originally 'CYPIAKHC BIBAOY' = 'suriakes biblos' possibly meaning 1Chronicles:]

... the passage in Genesis 36:33,

17b This man is described in the Syriac book as living in the land of Ausis, on the borders of Idumea and Arabia: and his name before was Jobab; 17c and having taken an Arabian wife, he begot a son whose name was Ennon. And he himself was the son of his father Zare, one of the sons of Esau, and of his mother Bosorrrha, so that he was the fifth from Abraam. 17d And these were the kings who reigned in Edom, which country he also ruled over: first, Balac, the son of Beor, and the name of his city was Dennaba: but after Balac, Jobab, who is called Job: and after him Asom, who was governor out of the country of Thæman: and after him Adad, the son of Barad, who destroyed Madiam in the plain of Moab; and the name of his city was Gethaim.

Gen 36:31-35

... and in 1Chronicles 1:44 .

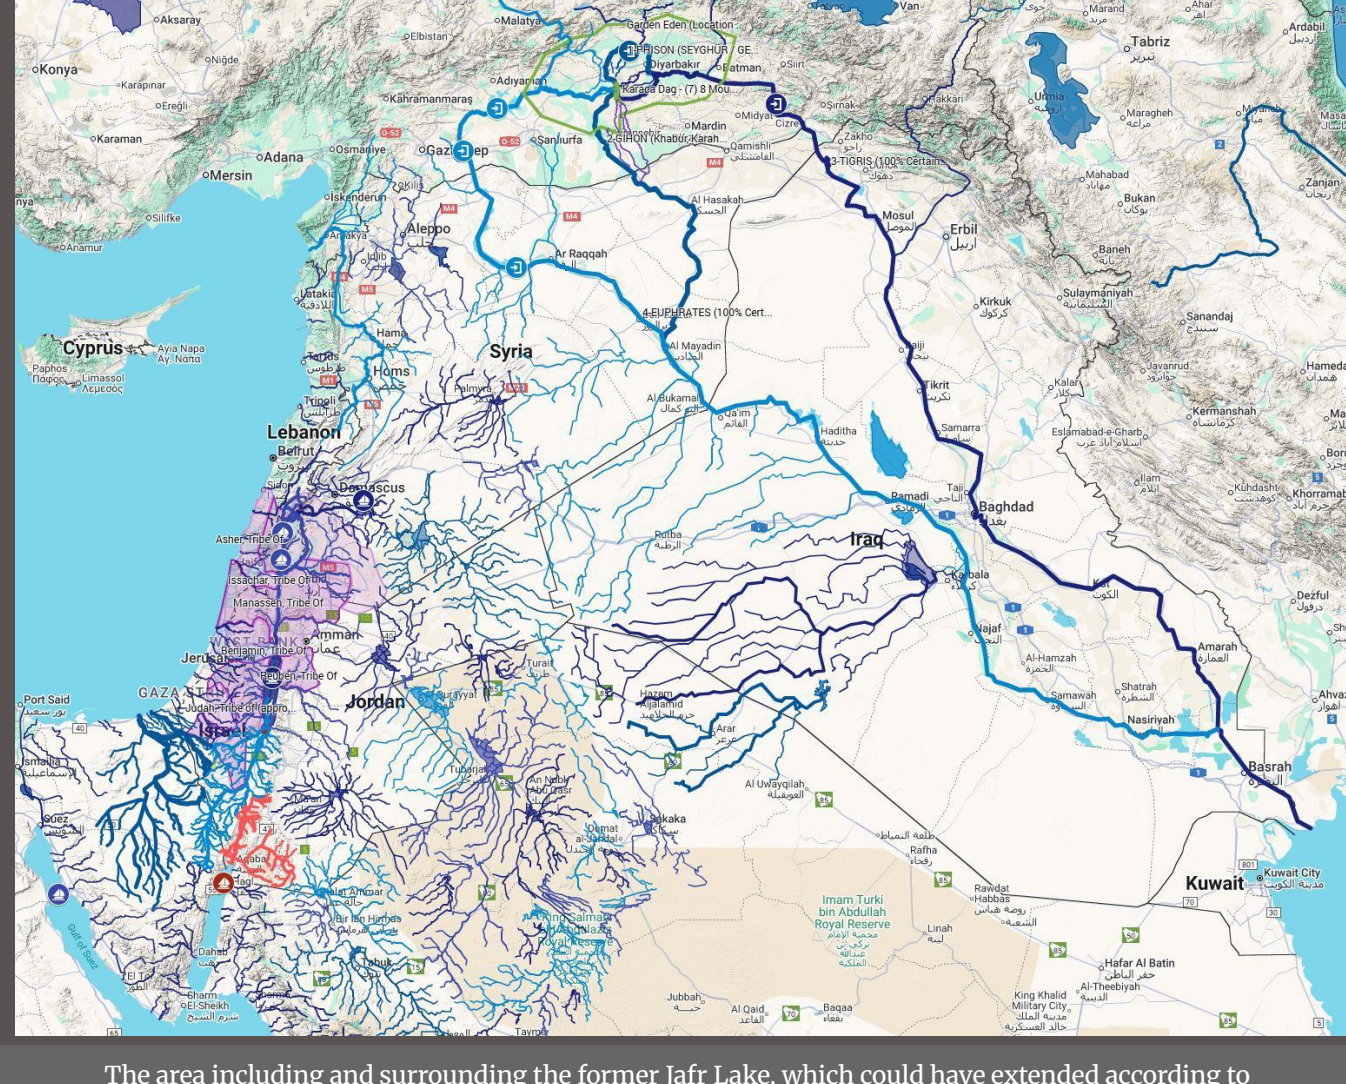

And these are their kings, Balac the son of Beor; and the name of his city was Dennaba. 44 And Balac died, and Jobab the son of Zara of Bosorrrha reigned in his stead. 45 And Jobab died, and Asom of the land of the Thæmanites reigned in his stead. 46 And Asom died, and Adad the son of Barad reigned in his stead, who smote Madiam in the plain of Moab: and the name of his city was Gethaim. 47 And Adad died, and Sebla of Masecca reigned in his stead. 48 And Sebla died, and Saul of Rhoboth by the river reigned in his stead. 49 And Saul died, and Balaennor son of Achobor reigned in his stead. 50 And Balaennor died, and Adad son of Barad reigned in his stead; and the name of his city was Phogor.

Extrabiblical Additions

I have to admit that I assumed up to this point the extinction of the dinosaurs with the worldwide flood. But the study of those last chapters of the book of Job has provoked the correction of my previously erroneous view. In summary, Dinosaur-like creatures (without looking into options which type of dinosaur could now fit the description, because it might not be any of what we have found and rather distracts people) existed at least until the time of the Exodus and were not entirely extinct by the worldwide flood, but by the well-documented drying-up of the Middle East with few remaining rivers today. Those previously described beasts would have required what neither Israel nor any country in the Middle East can offer today: vast river systems such as the former northern extension of the Red Sea in the Negev (where Job would have seen the beast) or the Al-Jafr basin in Jordan, containing vast pasturelands with very high grass. While those conditions existed without doubt after the flood and still to a probably strongly diminished degree during the time of the Exodus, they soon after ceased to exist, and a slow and natural extinction would have been the inevitable consequence.

The area including and surrounding the former Jafr Lake, which could have extended according to scholars up to 1800 km² (= ~43x43 km), would have been an ideal habitat for those beasts, and actual dinosaur bones have been found there (although 'only' 12-14m in length)!!

I included in the map shown below the conservative extension of the lake (dark blue; 245 km²) and measured a realistic extension (light blue; 853m ASL = 27m depth; 443 km²). This area would have provided the optimal conditions for this biblically described monster and the area was also close to Edom. Probably very small families or rather individuals of those 'monsters' would have lived there. Once deceased, we can assume that locals would have consumed its flesh, and used bones, shell and other products for several applications. A death of such an animal must have been a significant event for the neighboring countries.
