BIBLE GENEALOGIES

77 GENERATIONS TO IESOUS CHRISTOS

Introduction

Prologue

The Bible contains several genealogies with surprising details, but how do those genealogies fit together and also perfectly prove what the Bible teaches us about a relatively young creation? How do the Proto-Masoretic text and other texts compare to the divinely inspired Greek Old Testament?

1	Luk 3:38 ... Adam, the son of THEOS.			Act 17:26-29 "He also made every nation of man of one blood, to dwell on all the face of the earth - having ordained times before appointed, and the bounds of their dwellings - to seek KYRIOS, if perhaps they felt after Him and found, though, indeed, He is not far from each one of us, for in Him we live, and move, and are; as certain of your poets have also said: For we are also His offspring. Being, therefore, offspring of THEOS, we ought not to think the Divine to be like to gold, or silver, or stone, [an] engraving of art and imagination of man"											no beginning – eternal

Joseph, the husband of Mary by whom was born IESOUS, the One being called CHRISTOS.	14

The sons listed in Genesis 5 and 11 are generally thought to be the firstborn sons, yet the evidence shows that this was not always the case because there was not always a father -to- firstborn-son linkage (e.g. 1Chr 2:12: 'David the seventh').

If the genealogies would not begin with the FATHER of Adam (= THEOS; see Luke 3:38 which is regularly being neglected!), but only with Adam, then Abram would not have come in the 22nd generation (letters of Hebrew alphabet), Jacob not in the 24th generation and Admin has to be inserted in order to achieve 77 generations until CHRISTOS. If THEOS is not included as the first of all creation (Col 1:15-18), then the bloodline of CHRISTOS would only be human, but not divine in its origin.

The timeline from Adam to the construction start of Solomon's temple is specified in the Bible.

The timeline from the temple to the birth of IESOUS CHRISTOS is specified in quantity of continuous generations, but the respective fatherhood dates are not given.

- from Adam to Abraham = 3394 years
- from Abraham to Jacob = 160 years
- from Jacob to Exodus = 560 years
- from Exodus to Temple = 480 years
- from Temple to IESOUS = 964 years
- total = 5558 years

The total of 5558 years (=5560 BC) closely match the 5500 years from Adam to IESOUS CHRISTOS, mentioned in several non-canonical resources (He comes "after 5500 years"; "on the 6th day"; "within 6000 years"; Messianic Age; et al)

7 generations · Adam to Enoch

Jud 1:14 "And Enoch, the seventh from Adam, ..." [this does harmonize with being the 8th from THEOS]

'167' is a scribal error, also found in the Samaritan. '187' is the correct begetting age.

Some claim that '188' is a scribal error and that '182' is shown by the autograph reading, but this claim is not substantiated by any of the Greek Uncials which show without exception '188'.

The flood waters had disappeared in the very last days of the 600th life year of Noah. Therefore the second year after the flood equals 602 years (3296 BC; Gen 8:13; Gen 9:28-29); minus 100 years (Gen 11:10) making Noah beget Sem at the age of 502. Japheth was firstborn when Noah was 500 years old.

Cainan: Missing verse in Masoretic OT text, included in the Greek Old Testament and the New Testament.

1. The Alexandrian World Chronicle states: "And Arphaxad begat Cainan, whence come, from the east, the Samaritans. Cainan begat Salathee (i.e., Sala), when come the Salathians. And Salatheee begat Heber, whence come the Hebrews".

The fact that the Samaritans came from Cainan and even have an older heritage than the Hebrews (Cainan was born 2 generations before Eber, the father of the Hebrews), provides an overwhelming justification for Jewish scholars having excluded precisely his name. It is well known and described in the biblical account that the Jews had a deep aversion of the Samaritans (Joh 4:9). The inclusion of Cainan in their own writing must have been thorn for centuries.

2. Removed possibly also in order to have not exactly 77 generations pointing to IESOUS.

14 generations · Abraham to David (Mat 1:17)
14 generations · David to Babylon (Josiah)
14 generations · Babylon (Jechoniah) to IESOUS

It is commonly agreed that Abraham was born in 2166 BC (70 refers to firstborn). He left Haran at age 75 after Terah died at age 205 (Gen 11:32; Gen 12:4; Act 7:4)

Jacob was born exactly 560 years before the Exodus.

He was 130 years old when he came to Egypt. Gen 47:9 "And Jacob said to Pharaoh, "The days of the years of my sojourning are one 130 years."

The Israelites stayed 430 years. Exo 12:40 "... at the end of 430 years, on this exact day, all of KYRIOS' divisions went out from the land of Egypt.

[2006 BC - 130 - 430 = 1446 BC = Start of Exodus]

Hezron's fourth son Aram/Arran died, and his brother Ram acted as his kinsman-redeemer and had a son in his place for him. Therefore, Ruth, Matthew, and the Greek OT of 1Chronicles used the legal lineage, while the Hebrew version of 1Chr listed Amminadab's actual father.

1Kin 6:1 "It happened in the 480th year (LXX: 440th) after the Israelites went out from the land of Egypt, in the fourth year of Solomon's rule over Israel ... that he began to build the house for KYRIOS." [1446 BC - 481 = 965 BC] Solomon was born in ~990 BC, David being 50 years of age.

IESOUS' royal bloodline was far from being perfect, the Perfect was "born" into a sinful world: Rehoboam did evil in THEOS' eyes.

Abijam did evil in THEOS' eyes.

Asa did right in THEOS' eyes.

Jehoshaphat did right in THEOS' eyes.

Jehoram did evil in THEOS' eyes.

Uzziah did good and bad in THEOS' eyes.

Jotham did good and bad in THEOS' eyes.

Ahaz did evil in THEOS' eyes.

Hezekiah did right in THEOS' eyes.

Manasseh did evil in THEOS' eyes.

Amon did evil in THEOS' eyes.

Josiah did right in THEOS' eyes.

14 generations · David to Babylon (~605 - 535 BC) The count of those 14 generations does not start after, but with David, as it must include Josiah as the 14th generation, because his son Jechoniah was born at the time of the exile to Babylon.

14 generations · Babylon (Jechoniah) to IESOUS

Jechoniah died in Babylon. He did evil in THEOS' eyes.

Matthan died and left behind his child Jacob and his widow Estha, who married Matthat and begot Heli.

Heli died childless; brother of Jacob.
